

Data Matters

The latest insight, analysis, and company happenings

Webinar

Employee Departures: Digital Forensics, Noncompete Bans, & IP Protection

WEBINAR TODAY: Employees are leaving organizations in droves - but the question remains: When they leave what IP and confidential information are they taking with them—and how can you assess risk and exposure? Get strategies from experts at Dolby Laboratories, Miller Barondess, LLP and more to leverage digital forensics to protect IP in the wake of workforce changes. Can't make it today? Register now and we will send you an On-Demand recording to view at your convenience.

Register Now

#Litigation&Investigations

Article

AI-Powered Document Review: How CAL Can Speed Up Your Next Case

Curious about CAL? Access an overview of CAL including guidance from the courts and authoritative bodies like the ABA and The Sedona Conference. Plus, get details on common CAL use cases - including the types of cases - that are an ideal fit for RAPID Review, our fixed-fee, risk-free solution to try CAL workflows.

Read More

#IntellectualProperty

Article

Possible Solutions in the Apple Watch Saga

IAM Media Journalist, Nisha Shetty, talked with Bineet Bhasin, VP of IP and Strategy at UnitedLex, as a trusted source for his perspective on Apple's patent legal issues involving the recently released Apple Watch Series 9 and Ultra 2. Read the article to see what lies ahead for the tech giant.

Read the Article

#LegalOperations

Whitepaper

Saving Money Through Smarter Legal Invoice Review Processes

Effective legal invoice review begins long before the invoice hits your desk. When built on a foundation of sound billing practices and backed by quality data, legal invoice review finds substantial savings and frees lawyers—both in-house and at firms—to focus on higher value work.

Download now

#ULXPeople&Culture

Cause for Celebration! Gurgaon Office Comes Together for Brand Refresh

Our offices in India are home to over 1,600 employees supporting all lines of business and shared service departments - team members who are vital to the collective success of the company. That's why it was so special when our colleagues from around the world came together at our offices in Gurgaon - our largest hub - to celebrate an office design refresh incorporating our company values and key cultural elements.

Thank you for reading this month's Data Matters newsletter. We hope you found it valuable! Please share it with your colleagues and professional network, and visit our website for more resources and information. We look forward to connecting with you again next month. Comments or feedback? Contact us.