High Impact Legal Operations: How to Build a Legal Operations Center of Excellence

The most competitive legal departments are shifting focus - optimizing internal talent, refining processes, and modernizing technology to drive measurable results.

One proven approach: Establishing a Center of Excellence (CoE).

Newly released, High Impact Legal Operations: How to Build a Legal Operations Center of Excellence, is a pragmatic playbook that helps you evaluate if a CoE is right for your team, and if so, how to get started.

Beyond the Lookalike: How Dupes are Testing the Boundaries of IP Law

In today's consumer-driven market, rising demand for luxury goods has fueled the popularity of lower-priced "dupes." These products mimic the look or function of designer items without using trademarks or logos, raising complex questions under intellectual property law about when imitation becomes infringement.
