

Data Matters

The latest insight, analysis, and company happenings

News

Repario Acquires UnitedLex to Create a Technology-Led Legal Services Company with Enterprise Scale

Blending the agility and innovation of Repario with the operational depth and multinational scale of UnitedLex enables us to help clients turn their most complex legal challenges into measurable business outcomes. The combined company will be led by Chief Executive Officer David Moran.

Read More

#UpcomingEvents

Events

Catch Us In Person At:

- NetDiligence Cyber Risk Summit - Philadelphia, PA
- PTMG 108th Conference - Prague, CZ
- LSTA Annual Conferencem - New York, NY
- Two Minds. One Future. - London, UK
- Legal Geek Conference - London, UK
- ChIPs Global Summit - Los Angeles, CA
- Everlaw Summit - San Francisco, US

See the Full Schedule

#IndustryExpertise

Rapid Evidence - Shape and Execute Legal Strategy Faster

Transform case data into a structured evidence framework that supports a clear, defensible legal strategy. Powered by AI and guided by experienced legal professionals, Rapid Evidence helps your team move from data review to strategic action faster, so you're prepared before motions begin, not scrambling to catch up.

- Witness kits developed during the review process
- Clearly organized facts and timelines linked directly to evidence
- Dynamically aligned chronologies, witness kits, and case summaries
- Faster, more focused collaboration and preparation across teams

Designed for both in-house and outside counsel, Rapid Evidence brings clarity to complex matters by ensuring legal strategies are grounded in evidence from the very beginning.

Learn More

#IntellectualProperty

Article

The AI Patent Platform Review: Strengths, Weaknesses, and Best-Fit Use Cases

AI is transforming IP strategy, helping teams manage innovation, risk, and competitive advantage. From patent development to portfolio analysis and FTO reviews, AI is becoming essential in an increasingly complex IP landscape.

Read More

New Article

The Shrinking Half-Life of Patent Portfolios:

Are Companies Patenting Yesterday's Innovation?

A patent may have a legal life of 20 years, but does its strategic value last that long?

While technology and market priorities are evolving faster than ever, organizations must rethink how they manage and optimize their patent portfolios.

The article explores:

- Why legal patent life and business value are increasingly diverging
- The risks of maintaining portfolios that no longer align with technology and business priorities
- How strategic portfolio evolution and pruning can strengthen competitiveness
- Why patent relevance is becoming a more meaningful measure than patent volume

Read More

Thank you for reading this month's Data Matters newsletter. We hope you found it valuable! Please share it with your colleagues and professional network, and visit our website for more resources and information. We look forward to connecting with you again next month. Comments or feedback? Contact us.

